

Amanda Smith

RUMS Clinical Vice President - Bloomsbury

With all of the changes and reviews that are going on in the union, it is imperative the medical students are represented. The RUMS medical student community is a unique and dynamic population and we need to make sure our views are heard at every level and that people are dedicated to making sure our needs are met.

Education

- Maintenance of teaching standards
- Feedback with an impact
- Voicing concerns on the fairness of the grading system
- Improved library hours and facilities
- Ensuring no final year medical student is left confused by MTAS, so every RUMS student has the best possible chance

Finance

- Travel Reimbursements
- Campaigning for improved funding for clinical medical students

Welfare

- Peer support
- Setting up a support system for ex-students and FY1 doctors to guide final years through job applications
- Ensuring medical students are always aware of issues that will affect them

Community

- Maintaining the strength of RUMS clubs and societies
- KEEP WEDNESDAYS FREE
